TWO CAPITOL SUPERINTENDENTS Both Gave Their Orders Thursday-Mr. Snow's Attorneys Have Injunction Application.

Hartford, Conn., Jan. 7 .- The first skirmish in the forthcoming legal bat-tle to determine whether John L. Wil-son of Suffield will succeed Robert O. Snow as superintendent of the state capitol, took place today when coun-sel for Mr. Snow informed Judge Case of the superior court that they had an application for an injunction restraining Mr. Wilson from assuming the duties. Judge Case advised the lawyers—William Waldo Hyde and William J. Hammersley—to delay their contemplated action for a time and contemplated action for a time and wait developments.

Comptroller Morris C. Webster, who appointed Mr. Wilson, was not at the capitol today, but he expected to return tomorrow. Mr. Wilson, who said he was acting under Mr. Webtser's orders, went to the capitol in the morning and informed Mr. Snow that he was prepared to take charge. Both he was prepared to take charge. Both Wilson and Snow gave orders to the various assistants. Numerous conferences were held during the day. Secretary Wright of the civil service commission talked with Mr. Wilson and later with Comptroller Bissell was closeted with him for a time. Mr. Bissell, it is under-stood, advised Mr. Wilson to take no further steps without consulting Mr. Webster.
